Capital Stage 2016 Oregon Shakespeare Festival Tour
August 3 – 6, 2017

Join us in a Capital Stage tradition! Every summer we embark on a four-day tour to Ashland, Oregon, home of the Oregon Shakespeare Festival. Founded in 1935, the Tony Award-winning Oregon Shakespeare Festival (OSF) is one of the oldest and largest non-profit theatres in the nation. During our visit to the festival we will see the following productions:

HENRY IV, PART ONE

Thursday, August 3, 8:00 PM Thomas Theatre

Between a rock and a wild place Prince Hal is biding his time. His father, Henry IV, wants to tutor him in the cruel art of ruling the realm, but Hal would rather study the bottom of a beer stein in a seedy tavern, surrounded by his carousing friends. His gang's charismatic leader, Falstaff—larger than life, debauched and allergic to all authority—has been more of a teacher than Hal's father ever was. Then, when a young rival threatens the kingdom, it's time for Hal to step up and take on the family troubles. But how does a reckless son become a true prince?

THE ODYSSEY

Friday, August 4, 8:00 PM Allen Elizabethan Theatre

The hero's journey home The Trojan War is over, but Odysseus has not returned. Back home, his wife Penelope, plagued by suitors, promises to remarry as soon as she has finished her husband's shroud—which she unravels every night. Meanwhile, Odysseus is stranded on islands, caught in storms, trapped by a Cyclops and a sorceress, and impeded by other monsters and gods. Will he ever make it home to his wife and fatherless son? Adapter and director Mary Zimmerman (Guys and Dolls, The White Snake) weaves her own spell on Homer's classic tale of adventure, trials and steadfast love.

SHAKESPEARE IN LOVE

Saturday, August 5, 1:30 PM Angus Bowmer Theatre

*"The love that overthrows life.
Unbiddable, ungovernable, like a riot in the heart."
—Viola*

A man and his muse Poor Will is stuck. He's overdue with his new play—a half-baked mess called Romeo and Ethel, the Pirate's Daughter—and he's having a colossal case of writer's block. His patrons want a comedy, but he hungers for something more . . . more . . . well, even he can't come up with the word. Then he meets Viola, a smart beauty who loves his work and ignites his creative flame. But Viola has a secret, and Romeo is turning out to be anything but a laugh fest. Christopher Liam Moore directs this adaptation of the Academy Award–winning screenplay, a witty, romantic feast with music.

DISNEY'S BEAUTY AND THE BEAST

Saturday, August 5, 8:00 PM Allen Elizabethan Theatre

Learning to see with the eyes of the heart Belle is lovely, but her bookishness and longing for a life beyond her provincial village set her apart from everyone she knows. Gaston, the town heartthrob, wants her because she's the most beautiful girl around. But when her father runs afoul of a terrifying beast—a cursed prince who must win a woman's love if he's ever to become human again—Belle embarks on a strange, bittersweet journey. Think you know the Disney musical? Think again. Expect originality, surprises and ingenuity in OSF's gorgeous and powerful new rendition.

*"I want adventure in the great wide somewhere!"
—Belle*
